Frank De Leon

Information Security Officer – City Of McAllen

Frank De Leon is a skilled cybersecurity professional with a strong track record in securing digital environments. Since 2024, he has served as Information Security Officer for the City of McAllen, where he develops and leads comprehensive security strategies. Frank joined the City of McAllen in 2023 as a Cybersecurity Analyst, earning a promotion within a year due to his expertise and leadership. Previously, he was the Lead Cybersecurity Analyst for Hidalgo County from 2018 to 2022, driving initiatives to bolster threat detection and response capabilities. Frank holds a bachelor's degree in information technology from South Texas College, earned in 2018, and is a CompTIA CySA+ certified professional, showcasing his proficiency in cybersecurity analysis.

Matthew Navarro

Information Security Analyst – Information Technology

City of McAllen, Texas

Matthew Navarro is an experienced IT professional with a strong focus on cybersecurity strategies for IT infrastructure. Highly active in the cybersecurity community, Matthew is an avid presenter at local cybersecurity conferences, sharing insights on emerging threats, defensive techniques, and innovative security solutions. Working in local government, Matthew is dedicated to supporting fellow professionals in the public sector, recognizing the importance of securing essential services and protecting community infrastructure.